Dear Tom,

Altenloh, Brinck and Co. is an organization based on professional and personal values, which we have found to be strengthened by working with organizations like Wolverine Plating. This is the fundamental reason that writing a letter complimenting your organization is not only a pleasure, but simply very easy to do.

One fundamental value of our organization is to build lasting relationship with not only our customers and employees, but also our suppliers. These relationships are not merely business transactions, but truly win-win interactions on behalf of all stakeholders. Working with you and your team we have found you to be very passionate about your business which is committed to delivering a good product with superior service. Given the speed of business today, your ability to react to our needs, effectively communicate your capability, and most importantly deliver on those commitments are reasons you are held as one of our top vendors.

Again, it has been a real pleasure to do business with you and the entire Wolverine Plating Team and we look forward to celebrating many more anniversaries with you.

Sincerely,

Allyn J. Luce
